RFP 040 2000000192
INITIAL CONTRACT: 05/14/2021–6/30/2022

The Commonwealth and Contractor agree to the following:

I. Scope of Contract

Legal services include, but are not limited to investigating, litigating and resolving claims to recover damages for the breach of certain fiduciary duties and aiding and abetting the breach of fiduciary duties, which have combined to cause financial injury to the Commonwealth and its taxpayers, citizens, and pension plan beneficiaries, as set forth in Civil Action No. 17-CI-01348 (currently styled JEFFREY C. MAYBERRY, et al., v. KKR & CO., L.P., et al., (Franklin Circuit Court, Frankfort, KY) (the Litigation)), (as well as any similarly situated defendants against whom discovery may demonstrate have engaged in similar conduct) including any subsidiaries, partners, affiliates, contractors and subcontractors, predecessors, successors or parent entities of the named defendants. At present the Commonwealth is the Intervening Plaintiff in the Litigation, and the original plaintiffs have been dismissed.

Contractor shall assist in all phases of the investigation and litigation, including preparation of complaint(s), filing of complaint(s) and service of summons, responding to motions, including motions to dismiss; drafting and propounding discovery of the defendants and answering discovery propounded upon the Commonwealth or any of its agencies; tracking and analyzing documents obtained in discovery; taking depositions; defending depositions noticed by the defendants; preparing relevant witnesses for depositions; responding to motions for summary judgment or other pretrial dispositive motions; identification of experts to testify in favor of the Commonwealth or other state agencies; preparation of expert witnesses for deposition or trial testimony; assessing the strength of legal arguments propounded by the litigants; preparation of legal arguments on motions; dealing with discovery disputes; representing the Commonwealth in trial or in any settlement negotiations that may occur; representing the Commonwealth in responding to post-trial motions; representing the Commonwealth in appellate proceedings including but not limited to the appeal(s) of any judgment or verdict rendered in any such action(s) and, if applicable, the remand from appeal(s), and specifically with regard to any defendant who declares bankruptcy, representing the Commonwealth in such bankruptcy matters, including appearing at hearings, soliciting discovery, negotiating with any relevant parties, filing proofs of claims and all other actions necessary to protect the interests of the Commonwealth and its taxpayers, citizens, and pension plan beneficiaries.

The Contractor shall at all times be subject to the supervision of the OAG, which shall include but not be limited to determining whether and when to initiate litigation, against whom actions will be taken, the claims to be made in said litigation, authority to file motions, briefs and other documents in court on behalf of the OAG, approval and/or rejection of settlements and the amount and type of damages to be requested, trial strategy and conduct, appellate strategy and conduct, and other significant matters incident to the representation.

The OAG has determined that the contingency fee is both cost-effective and in the public interest. Further, the OAG has determined that sufficient and appropriate legal and financial resources do not exist within the OAG to pursue the litigation without outside counsel. The OAG anticipates that the amount of time and labor required to perform the requested services exceeds that which is available. In addition, the novelty, complexity, and difficulty of the matter are such that outside counsel is needed. The skill required to perform the requested services properly is of the highest level, and the geographic area where the legal services are to be provided will likely involve work in major metropolitan areas of the country. The Office has determined that experience in highly complex civil litigation involving multiple defendants is desired for the particular kind of legal services to be provided.

II. Pricing

Contingency Fee Basis - Contractor agrees to advance litigation costs and expenses incurred by its own attorneys and staff, including but not limited to travel, meals, mileage, lodging, photocopying, postage, electronic legal research fees, etc.

Additionally, Contractor agrees to advance costs of any and all expert witnesses, consultants, court reporter and transcript fees, translation services, etc., as may be necessary in furtherance of this case. Contractor will consult with the OAG before employing any expert witnesses, consultants, or translators. The OAG shall have the final approval of the retention of any expert witnesses or consultants and any fee arrangements paid to those individuals.

The Contractor shall accept a contingency fee based on the percentage of the Gross Recovery by judgment or settlement in the sliding percentages set forth below. Gross Recovery shall include all monetary recovery, including but not limited to damages; disgorgement, fee forfeitures and other equitable remedies; awards of costs, fees, and sanctions; and exemplary or punitive damages.

This percentage fee shall also cover reimbursement to the Contractor of all costs advanced, as addressed more fully below.

The contingency fee shall be calculated as follows:

1. Twenty percent (20%) of the recovery of the first $250 million of Gross Recovery;
2. Fifteen percent (15%) of the Gross Recovery in excess of $250 million and up to $1 billion;
3. Ten percent (10%) of the Gross Recovery above $1 billion.

The fee shall be due and payable as any Gross Recovery or Gross Recoveries are received with respect to any partial settlement, global settlement, or in partial or full satisfaction of any judgment. This fee shall cover all services described in the RFP Sections 1.00 and 2.00.

Costs of litigation and any additional costs

This litigation will require advancement of litigation costs in the range of $5 million or more. The OAG has determined that a case like this can only be successfully prosecuted when the money that needs to be spent is available and committed. The Contractor certifies that it has the resources available to meet litigation costs required to prosecute the matter for which this contract is executed. The Contractor shall advance and, even in the event of a Gross Recovery, absorb the entirety of the litigation costs incurred to prosecute the matter for which this contract is executed and the costs incurred by the Contractor and own attorneys and staff, including but not limited to travel, meals, mileage, lodging, and miscellaneous office expenses; the costs of any and all expert witnesses, consultants, translation services, etc., as may be necessary in furtherance of this case; filing fees paid to a court; subpoena and witness fees; deposition transcript expenses; reasonable and necessary expenses paid to document repositories, e-discovery or document vendors, trial consultants, jury consultants, Westlaw or other legal research providers; and any other reasonable litigation expenses necessary to the pursuit of the Commonwealth's claims as directed by the OAG.

Excluded from this commitment are litigation costs incurred internally by the OAG or staff of the OAG for their participation in the litigation, such as travel, copy, staffing, research, and the like.

Although the OAG shall have no financial responsibility for any costs of litigation incurred by the Contractor or its Subcontractors, if the OAG requests, expenses shall be documented in a format requested by the OAG and the Contractor will consult with the OAG before employing any expert witnesses, consultants, or translators. The OAG shall have the final approval of the retention of any expert witnesses or consultants and any fee arrangements paid to those individuals.

The Contractor shall use software compatible with software used by OAG, including Microsoft Office, Adobe Acrobat Pro, and other case management and document management software necessary to perform the services hereunder. The Contractor shall make available, through licenses or otherwise, case management or document management software to employees of the OAG assigned to this matter. The Contractor shall provide appropriate training and support related to the case management or document management software to employees of the OAG assigned to this matter.

III. Invoicing

The Contractor shall provide gross monetary recovery for deposit to the State Treasurer per KRS 48.005(3). At the time of any receipt of whole or partial Gross Recovery, if there is a Gross Recovery by settlement, judgment or otherwise, the Contractor shall submit an invoice detailing the amount of the Gross Recovery and the amounts due under the contingency fee calculation set forth above, for payment in accordance with KRS 48.005.
